Organizational History

In 1857 the San Francisco Board of Education established Minns' Evening Normal School for current and prospective teachers in the city. Named after its principal, George W. Minns, the institution was formally established as the first California State Normal School by the State Legislature in 1862. A decade later, the Legislature voted to move the Normal School to San José, and the school relocated to its new home on Washington Square prior to the fall term of 1872. After a fire destroyed the Normal School building in 1880, the Legislature authorized $200,000 to construct a new building on the same site. Completed in 1881, the building was commonly referred to as the Second State Normal School. After several names and curriculum changes, Minns' Normal School is now San José State University, offering more than 134 bachelor's and master's degrees with 110 concentrations, and is recognized as one of the top public universities granting such degrees in the West.

Student publications have been an essential part of campus life at San José State University since its founding. The first student paper was The Acorn, which debuted in 1867. This publication was followed by The Class Paper in 1880, The Normal Index in 1885, and The Normal Pennant in 1898. The Quill, a student literary journal, was initially published in 1925, followed by El Portal in 1932 and Reed Magazine in 1948, which is still published annually.

Documenting such topics as athletics, student organizations, and social and intellectual activities, SJSU student publications have featured original works such as plays, poetry, short stories, and essays, as well as news reporting and publicity for campus events. Publication formats include literary, feature, and humor magazines, a daily newspaper, club and organization newsletters, and guidebooks on a variety of topics. In addition, many of the publications cover national and international issues, as well as offering a local view of the student population by featuring in-depth profiles of individual students.

Other prominent SJSU student publications include the feature magazine Lyke (1946-1965), the school yearbook La Torre (1911-1965), and the official campus newspaper, the Spartan Daily (1934-present), which continues to publish a daily issue throughout the academic school year.

Series 1: San José State University Student Publications 1880-2004 (bulk 1960-1990)

Series Scope and Content Summary

This series documents student life at SJSU from 1880-2004, through a wide array of publications created and written by SJSU students. The bulk of the collection consists of publications created from 1960-1990, representing a time of significant change for the university in terms of student demographics, enrollment numbers, and campus expansion. The collection also includes publications from earlier incarnations of the university, including Normal School materials such as The Normal Pennant (late 1800s), humor magazines such as the Spartan Spanker (1920s), and the San José State College Times (1930s), a precursor to SJSU's current campus newspaper, the Spartan Daily.

Of particular historical significance in the collection are SJSU student publications documenting the counterculture of the late 1960s and early 1970s, which record the university's role in Bay Area social movements, as well as student perceptions of social and political issues related to Civil Rights, Vietnam War protests, and feminism. Examples include the publications The Outside Agitator, and Shaka. In addition, it should be noted that several of the publications produced during this time period were created or produced by students attending New College, an experimental, interdisciplinary liberal arts program in existence on campus from 1968-1981, including Jabberwock, Son of Jabberwock and Hieronymous.

Arrangement

This series is arranged alphabetically by title, then chronologically by date.

Box: 1

Access - Air Tower

Description of Publications

Access, Department of Journalism, 1986-2004, 33 Issues

Access is a general interest magazine published once a term. Article topics range from national to local issues. Articles featuring national topics use local interviews or perspectives to relate the content to San José State University or the San José metropolitan area. First published in the fall semester of 1987, it is currently available online at <http://access-magazine.blogspot.com/>.

Air Tower, SJSU Air Force Reserve Officer's Training Corp (ROTC) Newsletter, 1956-1958, 46 Issues

The Air Tower was the SJSU Air Force ROTC's newsletter. Although primarily aimed at sharing information between members, it also served as a method of outreach to the wider SJSU community. Some issues included a "Front and Center" column, which featured students' answers to questions about aspects of membership in the Air Force ROTC.

Box: 2

Banter - Clarion Call

Description of Publications

Banter, Associated Students, May 1984, 2 Issues

Banter was a student-written humor magazine funded by the Associated Students. The first date of publication is not listed, but the Letter from the Publisher implies Banter is a new, relatively unknown publication.

Big Basin, School of Nature Study, 1931-1934, 3 Issues and 1 Registration Form

The West Coast School of Nature Study was "one phase of the nature study services made available by the Natural Science Department of the San José State Teachers College." The publication began after the first field week, in which students attended a six-day course that included academic instruction and hikes or other outdoor recreation. The publication includes highlights from the students' field weeks, including jokes, articles and a directory.

The Class Paper, California State Normal School, May 20, 1880 - June 1, 1882, 2 Issues

The Class Paper appears to be printed in honor of commencement ceremonies, since both issues feature Valedictory and Salutatory speeches. Neither issue features advertisements. The May 1880 issue was printed at the office of the San José Mercury News.

Campus Voice, Editors Richard Rubacher and Ernie Barry, 1963-1964, 45 Issues

The Campus Voice was founded as an alternative to the university's official newspaper, the Spartan Daily. The aim of the Campus Voice was to attract and satisfy a more intellectual audience than the Voice's editors felt the Daily did. This publication accepted article contributions from students and faculty and eventually featured stories from Berkeley, San Francisco, and Stanford University, as well as "on the road" reporters. The paper documents the attempt to distribute the Voice on Stanford's campus, and the subsequent problems arising from this action.

Clarion Call, Students at the SJSU Teachers College Demonstration School, 1927-1930, 29 Issues

The Clarion Call was a monthly publication featuring articles about the San José State Teachers College Demonstration School. Articles include updates on classroom activities, as well as student-written poems or short essays, ranging in grade level from kindergarten through sixth grade.

Jabberwock and Son of Jabberwock were weekly New College publications, covering radical activities and organizations on both the local and national levels. Of particular note is the April 5-19 issue, which features an article about the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

KSJS Program Guide, KSJS 90.7, 1972-1973, 7 Issues

KSJS is a student-staffed public radio station located on the SJSU campus. The program guides featured here were published monthly and include talk, information, sports and music programming.

Box: 13

La Torre

Description of Publications

La Torre, SJSU Alumni, 1980-1981, 1 Issue

This is a mock-up of the 1980-1981 La Torre yearbook. A published version of the 1980-1981 yearbook is not available. Note: SJSU's La Torre yearbook officially ceased publication in 1965. Published editions of La Torre are available to patrons in the Special Collections Reading Room.

Boxes: 14-20

Lyke

Description of Publications

Lyke, Department of Journalism and Advertising, 1946-1965, 70 Issues

Lyke was short for Lycurgus, the figure often attributed as the creator of Sparta's constitution in the seventh century BCE. The publication was founded in 1945 as a feature magazine, with article topics ranging from fashion to sports to campus life. The magazine also included student profiles, as well as cartoons and jokes. Of special note are advertisements from local San José businesses from the 1940s-1960s.

Box: 21

Mobius Strip - The New College Mouth

Description of Publications

Mobius Strip, Student-run newspaper, Undated, 1 Issue

The Mobius Strip featured short writings on many subjects. Many biblical and musical allusions are featured in this issue, as well as a full-page ad for a new fantasy-adventure comic strip slated to start in the next issue.

New Campus Wit, Student-run publication, Undated, 1 Issue

The New Campus Wit was a humor publication featuring articles about topical subjects like Vietnam, campus events like Homecoming, and other political events such as student protests. Note: this issue is in poor condition.

The New College News, New College Students, 1977-1978, 21 Issues

The New College News was a weekly publication created to allow New College students to communicate with one another, express opinions via essays and articles, and to advertise campus events and announcements.

The New College Mouth, New College Students, 1971-1976, 21 Issues

The New College Mouth was intended to be a weekly publication, but as Volume I, Issue 2 states, "The New College Mouth has been suffering from Lockjaw . . . How does one stay a weekly publication when there is nothing to publish?" The Mouth included campus news, student writing, and event announcements.

Boxes: 22-23

New Student - Nightshade

Description of Publications

New Student, Student-run newspaper, 1965-1966, 52 Issues

The New Student was a radical newspaper printed weekly by individual students. The articles focused on the counterculture of the mid to late 1960s, and included articles on divisive political issues such as the Vietnam War and controversial university policies of the 1960s. The newspaper also featured interviews with such notable individuals as Beat poet Alan Ginsberg. Note: Issues of New Student can also be found in Box 23.

Nightshade, New College Students, 1970-1971, 3 Issues

Another literary magazine created with the aim of publishing student writing from New College, Nightshade began in 1970. Poetry, fiction and other genres are featured. Student Edvins August is a consistent name in all three issues, and his editorial opens the first issue and gives a brief insight into the creation of the magazine. The writing is notable for its frankness and use of profanity.

Boxes: 24-25
