Dates (Inclusive): 1979-2004

Dates (Bulk): 1980s-1990s

Collection Number: MC/03

Creator/Collector: California State University, Northridge (CSUN). Geography Department

Extent: 2 linear feet (2 boxes); 300+ items.

Repository: California State University, Northridge. Oviatt Library Map Collection, Northridge (CSUN), CA 91330

Abstract: The Flood Insurance Rate Map Collection contains a series of maps highlighting areas of potential flood risk throughout Los Angeles County. The maps were produced by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) as part of the National Flood Insurance Program. Maps from the collection include both incorporated and unincorporated areas of Los Angeles County, emphasizing areas of the County that contain creeks, channels, reservoirs, and other permanent or seasonal waterways. The bulk of the collection dates from the 1980s to the 1990s, with some maps from the 1970s and 2000s. Flood insurance maps also include municipal details like roads and highways.

Language of Materials: English

Processing Information: Processed by Thomas St. George, with assistance from Chris Salvano, during Spring 2017.
