

Frances Toor Collection (Mexican Mural Artists/Photographs)

Acc #S2016.5 - Palm Springs Art Museum.

The museum's Toor collection relates to Mexico, including pre-Columbian objects, paintings and works on paper by Mexican modernists, and other artworks were likely collected by Frances Toor and following her death, acquired by inheritance by her brother Herbert Toor. Frances Toor, American, 1890-1956, was an American author, publisher, anthropologist and ethnographer whose books and journal Mexican Folkways introduced Americans to the folk traditions and art of revolutionary Mexico. She received her MA Anthropology, UC Berkeley.

This collection (ca. 1930) includes black & white photographs of Mexican murals, muralists, and other related documents. Notes on photographs indicate these may have been used for publications.

The UCLA Library, Department of Special Collections contains one box of Frances Toor Papers, 1920-1956.
